Robert Feautex gets it!

The 1974 Mustangs, led by Jeff Good and Jack Stickney, fought hard but couldn't seem to get together. Their only victory of the season was over Loudon County, 34-21, in which #15, Phil Ballard, scored a 79 yd. touchdown, besides two others. The 1975 Mustangs look very promising with captains Danny Thomas, Chas Hunter, and Phil Ballard.

The 1974 Varsity Soccer season was the toughest yet, with fourteen games against triple A opponents. As always George Mason was handicapped by having a small squad with few substitutes, but the team was strengthened by having a competent goalkeeper, Kari Kaykho, our exchange student from Sweden. Unfortunately Kari was injured halfway through the season and missed the last half-dozen games.

The season began well with three victories, two against John F. Kennedy High School and one against Herndon. The toughest stretch saw several narrow losses, often in the last five minutes, to strong teams such as Wakefield, Washington-Lee and McLean. On the brighter side were two victories over O'Connell and ties with Yorktown and Wakefield.

A satisfactory season ended with five of our players being placed on the all-Northern Virginia squads, Chris Faith and Alan Shick on the first team and Kari Kaykoh, Kevin Snight and Kenny Huber on the second team.

With the help from Coach Bradd, the team finished with an overall record of 12-4. In the District Tournament the girls took a second place winning against Loudoun Valley.

George Mason proved to have a strong season and hope to have another next year, since they will only be losing two of their players.

"What's the past participial form of flabbergast?" "The predicate nominative of that sentence is hero, not sandwich!" Such were the refrains heard echoing through the halls as the English teachers, along with the students, took an intensive refresher course in grammer, spelling, punctuation and usage.

Reflecting a current national trend back to basics, the English dept. instituted a semester long composition course for '74-'75. Basic composition for one semester was an outgrowth of a summer workshop which also established a sequential English program for grades 3-12, and a schoolwide policy of requiring all depts. to assume some share of responsibility for developing writing skills.

Much to the teachers' as well as the the students' relief, third and fourth quarter saw the return of the thematic program which continued its usual strong focus of reading and writing skills.

The Social Studies Dept. at George Mason aims to provide the students with a broad background in the various Social Studies areas, World and U.S. History, Physical Geography, Political Science, Economics, Sociology and Psychology, with some specialization in different aspects of these subjects at the upper grade levels according to individual student interests.

During their two years in the Middle School students have four semester units, one each in Physical Geography, World History and U.S. History and a fourth which encompasses some Economics, Political Science and Sociology. At the high school level three required courses are offered in World Regions, U.S. History and Government. Each of these is arranged in nine-week thematic units with students moving on to different teachers each quarter. Juniors and seniors may enroll for elective courses in Ancient History, Medieval History, Advanced U.S. History, Advanced European History, Psychology, Advanced Psychology, Economics and Sociology.

All Social Studies courses are offered on the quarter-credit and optional pass/fail systems. Research skills, individual and group work, an inquiry approach and multimedia materials are emphasized. Special use is made of microfilm and videotape. There is no truth to the rumor that many of these courses are approached from a strong Scottish point of view.

Experimenting with language, as in Middle School, being college bound or travel happy as in high-school, students at G.M. learn the complexities of Spanish, French, German, and Latin, with increasing interest in the cultural aspects of the respective countries.

This year the Language clubs and Honor Societies will combine forces to present G.M. with a first: an International Dinner during the Christmas season!

Here's G.M.'s own "Little Miss Moffit."

Our goal for physical education is that each student will become aware of the value of being physically fit and will develop appropriate habits and an interest in the effective use of leisure time to maintain this fitness.

1975 marks a new era in physical education and health at G.M.. Students for the first time have three basic choices:

1) Students may choose the quarter they take health or Driver Ed.

2) Students have a choice of activities and teachers.

3) Students may select a co-ed activity class.

These choices given the student an opportunity to develop skills and knowledge in those activities they are most interested in.

The Vocational Education Dept. has a threefold purpose: to train students for job-entry level positions, to develop career awareness, and to develope personal-use skills. All of these purposes are closely woven into the Falls Church Public School's 5-Year Plan developed in 1974. Members of the Dept. have accepted the challenge in the Plan "that by 1976, 90% of the graduates not attending college will have job-entry skills."

Presently students at G.M. may select from a variety of courses—Data Processing, Stenography, Clerk Typing, Drafting, Printing, Electronics, and Home Economics. These are either two-or three year programs. Hopefully, in 1975-76 a senior may select to take a "mini" course in some areas which would develop basic job skills within a one-year period.

Individualized instruction is an outstanding feature of the job-training programs. After learning basic knowledge and skills within a program, students may select areas of special interest in which to concentrate. They also have an opportunity to"earn while learning" by participating in a work-study program.

The Vocational Dept. has paved the way for Career Orientation and Exploration in the Falls Church School System. All programs have courses for 7th and/or 8th graders in which students are given hands-on experiences and are able to learn something about jobs available in the various programs.

For several years students have taken advantage of the skill development courses in sewing and cooking offered in Home Ec. Boys and girls alike enjoy the creative endeavors available in the Co-Ed Living class. About 80% of the students at G.M. take typewriting before leaving high school and many, through Home Ec. or Business Ed. courses, are introduced to consumer education, a vital part of today's educational development.

Teachers in the Dept. feel they have a head start in meeting the challenges given to them by the State Dept. of Ed. and the local School Board. They will, however, continue to seek ways in which they can serve more students in our school.

To Each His Own

To each his own, it's plain to see
To walk alone you have to be
It's all for you, and all for me you'll see

I'm gonna miss you, yes I will
No matter who you are,
I love you still
Though my life is my conscience
The seeds I sow
I just wanted to let you know.

Familiar faces that I've seen
Turning red & turning green
They just got caught with writting on their sleeve.
I guess I'll leave.

I'm gonna miss you, yes I will
No matter who you are
I love you still
Will you cancel my papers,
and lock the door
cause I ain't gonna be round no more.

Will I make it, through the summer breaking ties with the old and new,
Loosing one, just gains another
There is nothing, I can do.
